TERRIFIC CAVALRY FIGHTING IN ARMENIA

Belated News of Zeppelin Attack on London Last Month--Four Hundred Soldiers Were Killed

(Special to the Sentinel.)

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The enemy trenches were entered by the British three and one-half miles from Thiepval, according to official account of operations in France yesterday.

ATHENS, Oct. 18.—Marines from the ships of the Entente powers have landed at Piraeus, and have occupied the railway station at Piraeus, also several buildings in Athens.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 19.—The war office announces heavy cavalry fighting in Turkish Armenia in which great losses were inflicted by the Russians.

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—Eye witnesses to the Zeppelin attack in England on September 23 report, according to the Overseas News agency, that bombs hit Grimsby Barracks killing four hundred soldiers, and that sixty men were killed on board a cruiser which was hit by bombs. It is said that Regent street, London, was for the most part laid in ruins.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—The Russians have suffered heavy defeat according to announcement from the war office. Repeated attacks were repulsed, and the trenches on the front for miles were taken by the Austro-German forces. Nineteen hundred prisoners and ten machine guns were captured.

SCHOOL NOTES

Grammar Department

The Eighth grade class is studying Scott's poems.

Ruth Lindman and Henry Ronning received the marks of 97 and 95 in the last History test.

The girls in the lower division of the domestic science class are making work bags. The higher division, having finished the yard waists, is making tatting for same.

Intermediate Department

Albert Lee has withdrawn from the third grade. He left for Chemawa on the Mariposa last week.

The coping saws and material to work with is at hand.

Frances Tamaree has withdrawn from the third grade. She leaves for Portland, Oregon, where she will attend school in one of Portland's largest Public schools.

TERMS OF LATEST GERMAN MEMORANDUM REJECTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The last German memorandum proposing certain terms of settlement regarding the Lusitania has not been accepted by the State Department, it is announced here.

PATTERSON AND EQUATOR LEAVE

The Coast Survey boat, the Patterson, and the drag boat, the Equator, both sailed for the south this week. These boats have made Wrangell their headquarters since their arrival in Alaska last April. The personnel of both parties is composed of most delightful people who have made a host of friends in Wrangell during their stay in the north.

Saturday evening the members of both parties gave a ball at the Redmen's hall complimentary to their Wrangell friends. The government people proved themselves to be royal entertainers, and every one had a most enjoyable time. After the dance the gentlemen of the Survey invited a number of their friends to a lunch at the Wrangell restaurant.

We are glad the government people came. We hope they will not disappoint us in coming back next season.

VIOLIN CONCERT A RARE TREAT

Was Given by Mrs. Edna Louise White and Miss Bronson

It is not often that the people of the Northland are afforded such a treat as the violin concert given in the Redmen's hall Saturday evening by Mrs. Edna Louise White, assisted by Miss Margaret Bronson.

Mrs. White is an artist of rare ability. She studied abroad for several years, receiving instruction from some of the European masters. Her playing is much sought for, and is always a big drawing card.

At the concert Saturday evening there was not a number that did not receive a most hearty encore. It seemed that the audience could not get enough of her playing which was surely of a high order of artistic excellence.

Mrs. White was accompanied on the piano by Miss Margaret Bronson whose technique added much to the success of the affair.

The following program was rendered.

- 1 (a) Aria.....Tenaglia
- (b) Serenade.....F. Drida
- (c) Saeterjaens Sondag.....Ole Bull

By request

- 2 Aria (For the G string).....Bach

- 3 (a) Brudefaerden i Hardanger.....H. Kjerulf
- (b) Kuiaiwak (mazurka).....H. Wieniawski

- 4 (a) The Swan.....Saint-Saens
- (b) The Bee.....Fr. Schubert
- (c) Mazurka.....Mlynarski

Hallowe'en Entertainment

A Hallowe'en entertainment will be given in St. Philip's gymnasium on the evening of Saturday, October 28, at 8:30 o'clock. A short program will be rendered. Fortune telling and a box supper will be among the attractions. The proceeds will go for the purchase of manual training equipment for the public school. A good time is assured for every one who attends. Don't miss it. Admission free.

Wrangell Dairy Sold

Al Osborne this week sold the Wrangell Dairy to Geo. E. Diemart, who for the past two years has had charge of Frank Calbreath's ranch on Telegraph creek. The owner will take possession sometime before the first of January. Mr. Diemart has gone to Kansas on a business trip and on his return will be accompanied by Mrs. Diemart. The new owner of the dairy is a practical farmer and dairyman of many years experience.

NINE PERISH WHEN LARGE NEW YORK BUILDING BURNS

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Nine employees of the Oakes Dye Works perished when the entire plant was destroyed by fire.

Cassiar Strikes A Rock

The Cassiar arrived from Telegraph Creek Saturday. Her voyage was not an uneventful one by any means. At Groundhog Jackson's place, the boat struck a sand bar and swung around striking a boulder. This caused a leak and the boat began to fill with water rapidly. It was almost a miracle that no one was drowned or hurt. After being repaired the Cassiar proceeded on her voyage to Wrangell. Several big game hunters who were in the party, remained in camp where the accident occurred.

Big Registration in Seattle

SEATTLE, Oct. 18.—Seattle's registration is 97773. This breaks all previous records by a large majority.

ARCTIC BROTHERHOOD

Opens Winter Season with Two Initiations and Enjoyable Spread

There was a good attendance at the Arctic Brotherhood last evening, and much interest taken in the proceedings.

W. H. Warren and J. W. Pritchett had been foolish enough to apply for initiation into the order, and were caused to drag their bleeding feet over the icy stairway of the old Chilkoot Pass. It will always remain a question in the minds of the members as to which of these two boobs furnished the most amusement.

Following the initiatory ceremonies the members repaired to the banquet hall where a Dutch lunch was served.

Upon returning to the lodge room the Arctic Chief called for songs from several brothers, all of whom responded. Mr. Warren played the piano accompaniment for each of the brothers who sang.

HUGHES WOMEN'S SPECIAL REACHES SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The Hughes Women's Special arrived here on schedule time. American flags were everywhere in evidence. Bands were playing and everything possible done to arouse enthusiasm. Many high society women turned out in full array. The much talked of hostile demonstration on the part of the Wilson women turned out to be a most cordial welcome.

President Wilson Speaks

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—President Wilson will deliver three speeches here today.

Grigsby Visits Wrangell

George B. Grigsby of Nome, Democratic candidate for Attorney General, was in Wrangell last Friday in the interest of his candidacy. For the past fourteen years he has resided at Nome. While here he met several old acquaintances and formed a number of new ones. Mr. Grigsby spoke in Ketchikan Saturday night, leaving on the next Southbound steamer for Seattle, from which city he will sail for Nome.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Condit, superintendent of Presbyterian missions in Alaska, was on board the Alice yesterday en route to his home in Juneau from a trip to the States. He was accompanied by Mrs. Condit and their son.

Billy Ryan, an old time miner, arrived this week from the Interior, and is spending a few days in Wrangell as the guest of his friend, Harry Brice.

CIVIC CLUB DOES THINGS

Gives Most Enjoyable Dance -- Raises $111.75 for a New Undertaking

WRANGELL WILL HAVE REMARKABLE MUSEUM

The First Money for Which Was Raised On This Occasion -- Will Be Asset to Town

A big event of a social nature was the dance given at the Rink last Friday evening by the Civic Improvement Club. The affair was a huge success from every point of view, both social and financial.

This dance was given for the purpose of raising funds to be used in starting a museum in Wrangell, and for the preservation of the totems of this region. After paying all expenses the ladies realized $111.75.

The following program was rendered:

Vocal solo: "Dreams of Long Ago," (Caruso) Mr. F. J. Baronovitch (Encore: "A Perfect Day.") Miss Grace Wigg, accompanist.

Piano solo: "Rosary and Variations." Mr. Chaffie (Encore: Rubenstein's Melody in F.)

Vocal solo: "Sing Me to Sleep" Miss Grace Wigg (Encore: "Everyone was Meant for Someone.") Miss Marie McKimney, accompanist.

Violin solo: "Cavatina" (Raff) Mrs. Edna Louise White (Encore: Minuet (Beethoven)) Mr. W. H. Warren, accompanist.

During the evening Mr. Tom Dalgity auctioned off a sofa pillow which was bid in by Hon. J. R. Heckman of Ketchikan at $15.50. Upon receiving his purchase Mr. Heckman very gallantly presented it to Mrs. Byron, remarking that he wished to present it to the lady who was doing the most for the pleasures of others. [Mrs. Byron was at the piano playing for the dance.]

Refreshments were served and nothing was left undone to make the affair a most enjoyable one.

Rev. H. P. Corser, author of Totem Lore, was present, and upon being called upon for a few

HAYES HOME AGAIN

Inspected Work on Road Across Prince of Wales Island.

J. C. Hayes, superintendent of road construction for the Alaska Road Commission for the First Division, returned on the Jefferson from Ketchikan. Mr. Hayes has been making an inspection of the work being done on the Portage road across Prince of Wales island. —Juneau Empire.

Capt. Fremont King, Dale Hunt, Harvey Stackpole, and A. L. Larson composed a party of Ketchikan Capitalists who stopped off in Wrangell Saturday night on their return home from a duck hunt on the flats.

Mrs. J. B. Caro, of Juneau, was on board the Alice yesterday en route home from a visit to the States.

PLACER MINING ON THIBERT CREEK

F. M. Fedton Tells of Activities During the Past Season

F. M. Fedton, manager of the Dease Creek Syndicate, arrived on the Iskoot last Thursday afternoon. The Dease Creek Syndicate, which is controlled by Victoria capitalists, has been for several years operating an hydraulic mining on Thibert creek, which empties into Dease Lake about six miles below the mines.

When seen at the Wrangell Hotel just before his departure for Seattle on the Princess Alice, Mr. Fedton said:

"There isn't much to be said about our operations at present. Since I became manager for the company three years ago we have been operating on a moderate scale. Next season we will operate on a much more elaborate scale.

"The past season has been a bad one for water. It has been unusually dry where we were operating. We were also handicapped by the poor transportation facilities into the country. My first shipment of supplies was made from Seattle on the 9th of May, and reached me on the 23d of July. There were no supplies in the country, and we had to make out the best we could.

"The season was largely taken to finishing up grounds which we were unable to finish last season, owing to shortness of water. But taking into account that the diggings themselves were not responsible for any of the drawbacks, I consider that the season has been a very satisfactory one.

"We could have continued mining at least two weeks longer but on account of making changes in the plant we closed the season September 30. The wrecking of the large plant required about two weeks, this being necessary in order to remove the plants to the new pits. This will be done during the winter months. The plant will be put in place in time to take advantage of the early spring freshets which usually come down about the middle of May.

"In the near future there will undoubtedly be considerable activity in the region where we are operating. It is a placer mining district which extends 60 miles down Dease river. Almost the whole district is a hydraulic proposition.

"I shall return about the middle of April, and have the plant installed and ready for early spring work. As I have already stated, we will operate on a much larger scale next year, and everything is favorable for a good season's clean-up."

PSINCESS RUNS ASHORE IN A DENSE FOG MONDAY

The popular C. P. R. steamer, the Princess Alice, went ashore on a sandy beach in Seymour narrows Monday night. No damage was done. The Alice was here yesterday morning twenty-four hours late for the first time in history.

LARGE QUANTITIES LIQUOR COMING IN

J. W. Preston, United States District Attorney of San Francisco Now In Seattle

SEATTLE, Oct. 18.—The Federal government is now making a sweeping secret service investigation of the enormous quantities of liquor illegally shipped into Seattle from California with a view to vigorous prosecutions. It has become known that John W. Preston, United States District Attorney of San Francisco, arrived in Seattle recently in connection with the government's proposed activity along this line. Preston's presence here was kept secret till this afternoon.

BENDER ENTERTAINS

Gives Elaborate Stag Dinner Served In Five Courses

On Sunday evening, J. H. Bender, the popular manager of the Photoshow, gave a stag dinner to a party of friends. The dinner, which was served in five courses, had chicken for its basis. (The word chicken as here used means fowl.) The chicken was not stewed, but roasted, and Mr. Bender was the chef who presided at the roasting. There were five guests, and dinner enough for twenty. The five tried to eat it all. It was two hours and thirty-five minutes from the time they sat down at the table until they managed to arise and retire to the parlor.

In the estimation of those who were fortunate enough to be present Mr. Bender is rated as being of the hundred per cent variety. In fact he seems too good to be true. (No pun being intended.) The wonder is that he has not been appropriated by some bachelor girl of affairs who would appreciate a good cook and housekeeper—one who in addition to his culinary achievements possesses connubial requisites and would make her happy ever after.

The guests were: Hon. J. R. Heckman of Ketchikan, G. L. Burnett, W. L. Balch, L. H. Brown, and Leo McCormack. Mr. Burnett acted as toastmaster.

TWO PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH IN SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Gertrude Swanson, wife of Captain Gus Swanson, of the Alaska fishing schooner, Dora, and James McKuskey, an aged laborer, were burned to death in a house on Tenth avenue south last night.

James Roe, a butcher, who was an occupant of the house, is suspected of incendiarism. Neighbors assert that they heard Roe say an hour before the fire that he was going to "burn the shack and get rid of that drinking bunch." Roe is under arrest with his hair badly singed.

cleaning and pressing is a line that will be added to his business.

THE CIVIC IMPROVEMENT CLUB AND THE MUSEUM.

We take off our hat to the ladies of the Civic Improvement Club. The Sentinel is proud of them.

About a month ago some of the active members of the Club began discussing the advisability of the Club starting a movement for a museum in Wrangell, and for the preservation of totems. Before the next meeting of the Club the Chamber of Commerce launched the movement which some of the ladies had been planning for the Club. Now here is where the ladies showed the high quality of their civic pride. They were not at all chagrined that the Chamber of Commerce had started the movement instead of themselves. They were only too willing to become an auxiliary to the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce. And with their support the success of any undertaking is assured. The ladies lost no time, but at once set about to devise ways and means of assisting in raising the necessary funds.

On last Friday evening the Civic Improvement Club gave an entertainment at the Rink and raised $111.50, which they turned over to the Chamber of Commerce Committee.

To successfully carry out an entertainment such as was given required much effort, but the ladies had their whole heart in the undertaking, and most cheerfully devoted several days of hard work in arranging for the affair.

The significance and importance of the movement for a museum in Wrangell will be more fully understood and appreciated in years to come than at present. The museum will contain the evolutionary history of a race primitive whose transition from the aboriginal to a state of enlightenment is a matter of only three or four generations. The Wrangell museum will contain one of the rarest and most unique exhibits ever offered to public inspection.

Wrangell has awakened to its unusual opportunity, and is now well on its way to spread scientific knowledge by visual education in special archaeological and historical fields.

The Douglas Island News has received a new quick change Model Five linotype, and also a new press. The size of the paper has been enlarged from five to seven columns, thus affording the "Stroller" more room in which to "stroll." In its new dress, the News is greatly improved in appearance. Editor White, the dean of journalism in the North, has our congratulations.

A NEW NEWSPAPER

Volume 1, Number 1, of the Alaska Labor News, published at Anchorage, has reached our exchange table. It is well gotten up typographically, and gives evidence of becoming an able exponent of trade unionism in Alaska.

In a two column article on the Alaska Labor Union of Anchorage, the Labor News says in part:

"The financial statement printed in this issue, under Union Notes, tells a story that must cause every member of the A. L. U. to thrill with pride. On Feb. 7, 1916, the first meeting was held but adjourned to meet the following day at Robart's hall when the officers were elected and permanent organization formed.

"Since then the big labor temple has been built at a cost of nearly forty-five hundred dollars, and is today one of the finest structures of its kind in the territory. . . . Today the Union has assets valued at over nine thousand dollars. . . .

"It is not only in the acquisition of its splendid home that the union is to be congratulated, but also upon the successful management and control of the affairs of this large and rapidly expanding organization. As the magnificent union hall stands a monument to the perseverance and industry of its builders, so does the Alaska Labor union as an organization testify to the foresight, the administrative and executive ability of its officers, and to their faithful performance of their arduous duties. If evidence were needed that the working class contain within their ranks minds capable of constructive conceptions; if there existed any doubt that the workingmen have the brains and ability to plan and carry out great enterprises, we have right here the proof that they possess all these qualities."

The journalism of the next decade will be sane, sober and sincere—as opposed to silly, sober as opposed to sensational and sincere as opposed to selfish. There will be more newspapers for discriminating readers and fewer catch penny sheets. The newspaper of tomorrow will aim to be sound as well as to resound. It will be a newspaper of sense, but not of sensation, devoted to service, but not cringing servility.—Herbert O. Gunnison in Leslie's.

CIVIC CLUB DOES THINGS

remarks, responded with a short talk that was well received. Mr. Corser said:

"When the Civic club was formed, many asked: 'What is it for?' A look at what the club has accomplished, and what it is now planning to do, will answer the question.

"A short time ago a taxpayer said: If the town does not provide a larger playground for the children, the town should not compel the boys to pay for the windows they break while playing ball.' The Civic club grasped the situation, and began to raise money for an extra lot for a playground for the children. When this undertaking is consummated, as it will be in the near future, the efficiency of the school will be increased many per cent, for every teacher knows that good 'healthy sport during recess makes much better students.

"Again, the belief is that Alaska is going to be more and more a Mecca for tourists. The testimony of thousands who have traveled much, there is nothing more wonderful than the excursion among the ten thousand islands of Alaska. These islands are bound to become the playground of the world. Tourists are not only going to make the excursion, but are going to stop off to see what can not be seen and enjoyed by simply staying with the ship.

"Wrangell has special attractions. Its wonderful glaciers, and opportunities for fishing and hunting, will induce many to make it a headquarters for their vacation.

"There are those who are not only attracted by the natural advantages of a place, but also by the unusual and historical. Wrangell has among its people those who only three or four generations ago were in the Stone Age. These people have many monuments, as totems and the like, which should be preserved. There are unusual opportunities for starting a museum, and the Civic Improvement club, with its unusual energy and ability to see what is needed, has provided this entertainment and social evening to raise the necessary funds to make a beginning in this laudable enterprise, and we are all glad to join with them in their working for the improvement of the town."

It was after midnight when the dancing ceased and the merry-makers took their departure.

To the door of every generation there comes a knocking and unless the household, like the Thane of Cowder and his wife, have been doing some deed without a name, they need not shudder. It turns out at worst to be a poor relation who wishes to come in out of the cold. The porter always grumbles and is slow to open. "Who's there, in the name of Beelzebub?" he mutters. Not a change for the better in our human housekeeping has ever taken place that wise and good men have not opposed it—have not prophesied with the aldermen that the world would wake up and find its throat cut in consequence of it. The world, on the contrary, wakes up, rubs its eyes, yawns, stretches itself, and goes about its business as if nothing had happened.—James Russell Lowell.

inary grievance against some individual, concern or industry, when it comes to dealing with questions affecting the public welfare. To make a great deal of political noise is one thing but to accomplish results for the people is quite another.

Locally, to Mr. Heckman's influence and efforts are largely due the upbuilding and progress of Ketchikan and vicinity. So also would his influence and efforts be material factor in the Territorial Senate looking to the advancement of the interests of the whole of Alaska, and more particularly of the First Division. Those who know him personally recognize this fact. Those who have not his personal acquaintance need only to refer to his legislative career during the last session. The republican candidate for senator is and always has been opposed to a poll tax, has consistently and continually favored laws protecting game and fish and placing a bounty on seals, wolves, and eagles. The propagation of salmon has been a hobby with him for years, he having been in control of the largest salmon hatchery in Alaska. He now proposes to extend this field of activity by providing, at the expense of the industry, for several hatcheries in Southeastern Alaska for the propagation of the humpback salmon. This is a most important question to this division at this time, for just as surely as something is not done, and that very soon, not only to replenish the supply of fish but to provide and enforce a proper and adequate "close season" that the fish may be permitted, unmolested, to ascend the streams for spawning purposes, just so surely the supply will become exhausted within a very few years. This proposition should receive the endorsement of the entire electorate from Yskutat to Dixon's Entrance.

Herein are enumerated a few of the things for which Mr. Heckman stands committed. Suffice it to say that he is not the man to overlook any measure calculated to better conditions or for the advancement of the territory in which he lived for thirty years.

The records of the municipal court of Portland, Oregon, show quite clearly by comparison of the first eight months of 1915 and 1916, that liquor is absolutely necessary to the successful operation of disorderly houses and other places where crime hatches.

"Prohibition has made a prohibitionist out of me" said Robert G. Duncan, manager of the Retail Grocers' Association of Portland, recently. The Grocers are helped wonderfully in the matter of collections. Men who used to duck their grocery bills are now prompt payers and their families are not going hungry. Personally I opposed prohibition until I saw the good it did. I can ride in my auto without fear of being rammed by a drunken autoist; I can go home on a street car without smelling a polluted breath or listening to some liquor-laden argument. The grocers are for prohibition. Last year our office had 100 names in the waiting list for clerkships. This year we cannot fill the vacancies. At this moment I do not know of any idle man who really longs for work. Contractors tell me they have more work than men.

"A pitiable spectacle is presented by Old Demon Rum—he hasn't a statistic to stand on," is the way the Oregonian puts it.

According to Deputy District Attorney Richard Deich, who has milled over a tangle of figures ground out by the municipal court and finally reduced them to orderly submission, Portland's eight months of prohibition regime indicate that "jail may go out of fashion with julep," for the reduction in crime is seventy five per cent.

"In 1915 I distributed over 600 garments and 98 pairs of shoes besides medicines, etc," states Mrs. S. J. Merry, Chairman Relief Committee, Rose City Park W. C. T. U. "At the end of the fourth month of prohibition calls for clothing medicine and other assistance ceased. The supplies on hand remained uncatted for."
